Stephen A. Schwarzman

Chairman, CEO and Co-Founder

Blackstone

Mr. Schwarzman has been involved in all phases of the firm's development since its founding in 1985. The firm is a leading global asset manager with $368 billion Assets Under Management (as of March 31, 2017).

Mr. Schwarzman is an active philanthropist with a history of supporting education and schools. Whether in business or in philanthropy, he has always attempted to tackle big problems and find transformative solutions. In 2015, Mr. Schwarzman donated $150 million to Yale University to establish the Schwarzman Center, a first-of-its-kind campus center in Yale's historic "Commons" building. In 2013, he founded an international scholarship program, "Schwarzman Scholars," at Tsinghua University in Beijing to educate future leaders about China. At $450 million, the program is modeled on the Rhodes

Scholarship and is the single largest philanthropic effort in China's history coming largely from international donors. Mr. Schwarzman currently maintains his position as Co-Chair of the Board of Trustees of Schwarzman Scholars. In 2007, Mr. Schwarzman donated $100 million to the New York Public Library on whose board he serves.

Mr. Schwarzman is a member of The Council on Foreign Relations, The Business Council, The Business Roundtable, and The International Business Council of the World Economic Forum. He is co-chair of the Partnership for New York City and serves on the boards of The Asia Society and New York-Presbyterian Hospital, as well as on The Advisory Board of the School of Economics and Management at Tsinghua University, Beijing. He is a Trustee of The Frick Collection in New York City and Chairman Emeritus of the Board of Directors of The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. In 2007, Mr. Schwarzman was included in TIME's "100 Most Influential People." In 2016, he topped Forbes Magazine's list of the most influential people in finance. The Republic of France has awarded Mr. Schwarzman both the Légion d'Honneur and the Ordre des Arts et des Lettres at the Commandeur level. Mr. Schwarzman is one of the only Americans to receive both awards recognizing significant contributions to France.

He is also the Chairman of the President's Strategic and Policy Forum, which is charged with providing direct input to the President of the United States from business leaders through a non-partisan, non-bureaucratic exchange of ideas.

Mr. Schwarzman holds a B.A. from Yale University and an M.B.A. from Harvard Business School. He has served as an adjunct professor at the Yale School of Management and on the Harvard Business School Board of Dean's Advisors.

Jay Timmons

President and CEO

National Association of Manufacturers

Jay Timmons is president and CEO of the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM), the largest manufacturing association in the United States representing small and large manufacturers in every industrial sector. He became NAM president in January 2011.

Jay is a leading advocate for the nearly 12 million men and women who make things in America, educating the public and policymakers on issues that affect this critical sector of the U.S. economy. He promotes a broad-based agenda to strengthen U.S. competitiveness and bring about a manufacturing renaissance.

He is driven by the principles instilled in him by his roots in the manufacturing town of Chillicothe, Ohio, where his grandfather worked at a Mead plant for nearly four decades and where he witnessed manufacturing's ability to raise the quality of life for families and communities. Jay's knowledge and expertise is valued and respected by influential policymakers on both sides of the aisle in Congress and the Administration. He knows how to navigate the complexities of the policymaking process in the nation's capital and brings with him an exceptional understanding of manufacturing issues.

Prior to his appointment as NAM president, Jay was executive vice president beginning in 2008. In 2005, he joined the NAM as senior vice president of policy and government relations. His previous experience includes serving as chief of staff to Congressman, Governor and Senator George Allen (R-VA) from 1991 to 2002, and a term as executive director of the National Republican Senatorial Committee during the 2004 election cycle. When he first came to Washington in the 1980s, he served as press secretary to Congressman Jim Martin (R-NC) and later Alex McMillan (R-NC).

A passionate advocate for the adoption of companion animals, Jay served for seven years as the Chairman of the Washington Humane Society Board of Directors, and led the successful effort to merge WHS and the Washington Animal Rescue League to create the Humane Rescue Alliance. He is also the Chairman of the Manufacturing Institute, and a member of the board of the U.S Chamber Institute for Legal Reform. Jay attended The Ohio State University and resides in McLean, Virginia with his husband, Rick, and their three children.

WANG Yusuo

Vice President, China Entrepreneur Club;

Founder and Chairman, ENN Group

Mr. Wang Yusuo is a Member of the National Committee of CPPCC (Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference), and was the Vice Chairman of the 9th Executive Committee of All-China Federation of Industry and Commerce.

Wang has led ENN Group to become one of the largest private energy companies in China. As one of the first advocates of the modern energy system and internet energy, he proactively promoted the implementation of such concepts and explored a path for conventional energy companies to transform to internet companies. He supported the R&D and commercialization of proprietary technologies of Ubiquitous Energy Network and coal-based cleaner energy, and blazed a trail of technological innovation for Chinese private companies.

ENN Group

Established in 1989, ENN Group has been upholding the corporate mission of building a modern energy system and improving quality of life. Two value chains have been established. One is an integrated value chain of natural gas, including exploration and production in the upstream, trading, shipping and storage in the midstream, and distribution and retailing in the downstream. The other is focused on better life quality, covering businesses in tourism, culture, health and real estate.
