

May 6, 2019

Trump threatens to increase tariffs on $200B of Chinese goods

President Donald Trump tweeted on May 5 that trade talks with China were progressing “too slowly” and that the U.S. would raise tariffs on $200 billion of Chinese goods from 10 to 25 percent on May 10. Trump also plans to set taxes on another $325 billion of Chinese goods that “remain untaxed,” but would “shortly” face tariffs of 25 percent.

In September 2018, a round of tariffs included a significant number of chemical and textile products, but the tariffs fell most heavily (by dollar value of 2017 imports) on machinery, electrical appliances and equipment.

U.S. tariffs on Chinese goods, by Harmonized System section

Note: Data not available for HS code 71082000: Gold, monetary, in unwrought, semimanufactured or powder form

Sources: USTR, USA Trade database, U.S. Census Bureau

By Taylor Miller Thomas, POLITICO Pro DataPoint

Click here for more information about DataPoint, and your Account Manager will follow up shortly.