Overview

Current Margins and the Electoral Map in the Senate

- There is currently a 50/50 split in the Senate. 51 seats are needed to control the chamber. Vice President Kamala Harris votes with Democrats to break a tie.
- The midterm elections will be held on November 8, 2022. The 118th Congress will begin with reelected and newly elected Senators beginning six-year terms on January 3, 2023.
- In this cycle, 35 of the 100 seats are up for regular election, including a special election in Oklahoma. 15 seats are held by Democrats and 20 are held by Republicans.
- As of today, six Senators have announced they will not seek re-election. This includes one Democratic committee chair (Appropriations) and five Republican ranking members (Appropriations; Armed Services; Banking; Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions (HELP); Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs (HSGAC); and Rules).
- Races to watch because they lean Democrat, lean Republican, or are toss-ups are coded in this document based on analysis from leading political pundits, including 270 To Win, Real Clear Politics, the Cook Political Report, and Sabato's Crystal Ball.
- As the margins in the Senate become clear and we learn more about committee ratios, we plan to expand this document to reflect seats that parties may gain or lose on each committee, as well as current committee members who may be at risk of losing a seat due to changing committee ratios.
- Closer to the elections, we will also begin tracking Senators who may be looking to switch their committee assignments in the new Congress.

Special Elections

- Sen. Jim Inhofe (R-OK) announced his retirement February 24. He will serve through the end of the 117th Congress. Since Sen. Inhofe filed for retirement before March 1, the state's special election will coincide with statewide races in November. Sen. Inhofe's successor will be sworn in to the 118th Congress on January 3.

Democratic Leadership

- No changes are expected to Senate Democratic leadership in the 118th Congress. However, this could change if Democrats perform poorly in November.
- President Pro Tempore: The president pro tempore is elected by the Senate and is, by custom, the Senator of the majority party with the longest record of continuous service. Since 117th Congress President Pro Tempore Patrick Leahy (D-VT) is retiring, the next longest serving Democrat would be Sen. Dianne Feinstein (D-CA).
- Leadership: Majority Leader Chuck Schumer (D-NY), Majority Whip Dick Durbin (D-IL), Chief Deputy Majority Whip Jeff Merkley (D-OR), and Assistant Democratic Leader Patty Murray

[[Plurus Strategies]]

(D-WA) will likely remain in these positions in the 118th Congress, assuming Democrats maintain control of the Senate, or hold similar positions in the minority, if the Senate flips.

- Democratic Caucus: Chair Chuck Schumer (D-NY), Vice Chair Elizabeth Warren (D-MA), Vice Chair Mark Warner (D-VA), and Secretary Tammy Baldwin (D-WI) could remain in their current positions.
- Democratic Policy & Communications Committee (DPCC): DPCC Chairwoman Debbie Stabenow (D-MI), DPCC Vice Chair Joe Manchin (D-WV), and DPCC Vice Chair Cory Booker (D-NJ) could continue in these roles in the 118th Congress.
- Democratic Steering & Outreach Committee (DSOC): DSOC Chairwoman Amy Klobuchar (D-MN) and DSOC Vice Chairwoman Jeanne Shaheen (D-NH) could remain in these positions in the next Congress.
- Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee (DSCC): It may be too soon to speculate who will succeed current DSCC Chairman Gary Peters (D-MI).

Republican Leadership

- President Pro Tempore: If Republicans win control of the chamber in November, President Pro Tempore Emeritus Chuck Grassley (R-IA) would likely resume this position.
- Leadership: Minority Leader Mitch McConnell (R-KY), Assistant Minority Leader John Thune (R-SD), and Minority Chief Deputy Whip Mike Crapo (R-ID) will likely continue in these roles in the 118th Congress, or in similar roles in the majority if the Senate flips. National Republican Senatorial Committee (NRSC) Chair Rick Scott (R-FL) has not ruled out challenging Leader McConnell.
- Republican Conference (SRC): SRC Chair John Barrasso (R-WY) would likely remain in this position. Sen. Shelley Moore Capito (R-WV) has stated she will make a bid for the SRC Vice Chair spot, currently held by Sen. Joni Ernst (R-IA), who has indicated she is making a bid for retiring RPC Chair Roy Blunt's (R-MO) spot.
- Republican Policy Committee (RPC): Due to RPC Chair Roy Blunt's (R-MO) retirement, current SRC Vice Chair Joni Ernst (R-IA) has indicated she is looking to move into this position, opening up the SRC Vice Chair slot.
- National Republican Senatorial Committee (NRSC): Sen. Steve Daines (R-MT) is expected to succeed Sen. Rick Scott (R-FL) as NRSC Chair.

General Rules Pertaining to Committee Leadership

- Generally, decisions on Senate committee leadership are based on seniority, but there can be some surprises.
- Committee assignments are shaped by party conference rules. The Republican Conference makes its rule publicly available, while the Democratic Conference does not. Limitations apply to Republican Senators.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

- The Senate categorizes committees into three groups: A Committees, B Committees, and C Committees.
- Both the Democratic and Republican Conferences have limitations on committee and subcommittee membership based on how a committee is characterized.
- Committee leadership rules are also impacted by further distinctions between A Committees as Super A Committees.
- A Committees include Agriculture; Appropriations; Armed Services; Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs; Commerce, Science, and Transportation; Energy and Natural Resources; Environment and Public Works (EPW); Finance; Foreign Relations; Intelligence; Judiciary; Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions (HELP); and Homeland Security and Governmental Affairs (HSGAC).
- Both the Democratic and Republican Conferences designate Appropriations, Armed Services, and Finance as Super A Committees. The Republican Conference also designates Foreign Relations as a Super A Committee.
- Senators are generally not assigned to more than one Super A Committee by their respective party conference, though there are some exceptions.
- Generally, a Senator is not permitted to serve on more than two A Committees.
- In February 2021, Senate Democrats adopted a new subcommittee chairmanship rule prohibiting Senators who lead A Committees from holding subcommittee chairmanships until more junior Members who do not lead a committee have an opportunity to claim a subcommittee gavel. There are some exceptions, notably on the Appropriations Committee.
- B committees include Aging; Budget; Joint Economic; Rules; Small Business; and Veterans' Affairs.
- C committees include Ethics; Indian Affairs; and Joint Taxation.

Republican Conference Rules on Committee Leadership

- Full Committees: Senators are not bound by committee seniority when selecting a chair. However, Republican Senators can use seniority to bump sitting chairs/ranking members when control of the Senate switches parties. If there are multiple candidates for a position, a vote is conducted by secret written ballot.
- Term Limits: A Republican Senator can serve a cumulative six years as chair, plus six years as ranking member of the same committee.
- A Committees: Senators rank their top three preferred A Committee assignments. The rest are composed using the following guidelines: seniority of service on committees, seniority of service in the Senate, limitations on any Senator serving on both the Finance and Appropriations Committees simultaneously, and rules that stipulate that no two Republican Senators from the same state can serve on the same committee.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

- B Committees: Republican Senators may keep one B Committee assignment on which they served in the previous Congress.
- Subcommittees: Subcommittee chairs/ranking members are determined by their seniority on either the subcommittee or the full committee with exceptions. Waivers can be sought.

AGING

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Robert Casey (PA), Chairman	Tim Scott (SC), Ranking Member [OC, 2RM]
Kirsten Gillibrand (NY)	Susan Collins (ME) (Term-Limited)
Richard Blumenthal (CT)	Richard Burr (NC)
Elizabeth Warren (MA)	Marco Rubio (FL)
Jacky Rosen (NV)	Mike Braun (IN)
Mark Kelly (AZ)	Rick Scott (FL)
Raphael Warnock (GA)	Mike Lee (UT)

Outlook: 117th Congress Aging Chairman Bob Casey (D-PA) is likely to continue as the top Democrat on the committee in the 118th Congress. However, if 117th Congress Budget Chairman Bernie Sanders (I-VT) chooses not to move to the top spot on HELP, which will become vacant due to 117th Congress HELP Chairwoman Patty Murray (D-WA) moving into retiring 117th Congress Appropriations Chairman Patrick Leahy's (D-VT) spot, Sen. Casey (D-PA) would be next-in-line on HELP. If Sen. Casey moves to HELP, Sen. Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) would be next-in-line on Aging. 117th Congress Aging Ranking Member Tim Scott (R-SC) could remain the top Republican on the committee in the 118th Congress or he could choose to take the top GOP spot on Banking or Small Business. If Sen. Tim Scott chooses Banking or Small Business, Sen. Susan Collins (R-ME) would be next in line on Aging, but she is term limited and has indicated plans to become the top Republican on Appropriations. Next in line is Sen. Richard Burr (R-NC), who is retiring, followed by Sen. Marco Rubio (R-FL), who, if he wins reelection, is likely to keep the top Republican slot on Intelligence. This means Sen. Mike Braun (R-IN) could become the top Republican on Aging.

Martin Heinrich (NM)	Marco Rubio (FL)

Outlook: Due to 117th Congress Appropriations Chairman Patrick Leahy's (D-VT) retirement, Sen. Patty Murray (D-WA) is in line to take the top Democratic spot on the committee, meaning she would vacate her spot as the top Democrat on HELP. Ranking Member Richard Shelby's (R-AL) retirement leaves Sen. Susan Collins (R-ME) as his expected successor, though some question if her party might find her to be too moderate.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

BANKING, HOUSING, AND URBAN AFFAIRS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Sherrod Brown (OH), Chairman	Pat Toomey (PA), Ranking Member [OC, 2RM]
Jack Reed (RI) (Armed Services)	Richard Shelby (AL) (Appropriations)
Robert Menendez (NJ) (Foreign Relations)	Mike Crapo (ID) (Finance)
Jon Tester (MT)	Tim Scott (SC)
Mark Warner (VA)	Mike Rounds (SD)
Elizabeth Warren (MA)	Thom Tillis (NC)
Chris Van Hollen (MD)	John Kennedy (LA)

Tina Smith (MN)	Cynthia Lummis (WY)
Kyrsten Sinema (AZ)	Jerry Moran (KS)
Jon Ossoff (GA)	Kevin Cramer (ND)
Raphael Warnock (GA)	Steve Daines (MT)

Outlook: 117th Congress Banking Chairman Sherrod Brown (D-OH) will remain the top Democrat on the committee. Due to 117th Congress Banking Ranking Member Pat Toomey's (R-PA) retirement, next in line based on seniority would be Sen. Mike Crapo (R-ID). However, he is likely to keep his top spot on Finance. Next in line is 117th Congress Aging Ranking Member Tim Scott (R-SC). Sen. Tim Scott could be in a position to choose from the top spots on Aging, Banking, or Small Business. If Sen. Tim Scott chooses a committee other than Banking, Sen. Mike Rounds (R-SD) would be next in line to serve in the GOP leadership slot on Banking.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

BUDGET

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Bernie Sanders (I-VT), Chairman	Lindsey Graham (SC), Ranking Member, [OC, 2RM]
Patty Murray (WA) (HELP)	Chuck Grassley (IA) (Judiciary)
Ron Wyden (OR) (Finance)	Mike Crapo (ID) (Finance)
Debbie Stabenow (MI) (Agriculture)	Pat Toomey (PA)
Sheldon Whitehouse (RI)	Ron Johnson (WI)
Mark Warner (VA)	Mike Braun (IN)
Jeff Merkley (OR)	Rick Scott (FL)
Tim Kaine (VA)	Ben Sasse (NE)
Chris Van Hollen (MD)	Mitt Romney (UT)
Ben Ray Lujan (NM)	John Kennedy (LA)
Alex Padilla (CA)	Kevin Cramer (ND)

Outlook: If 117th Congress Budget Chairman Bernie Sanders (I-VT) moves into the top spot on HELP because of 117th Congress HELP Chairwoman Patty Murray (D-WA) moving to Appropriations, the chairmanship would open to next-in-line Sen. Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI), assuming that all other Democratic Senators who are more senior maintain leadership slots on other committees. That being said, Sen. Sanders could retain his top spot on Budget leaving HELP to 117th Congress Aging Chairman Bob Casey (D-PA). If the Senate remains in Democratic control, 117th Congress Budget Ranking Member Lindsey Graham (R-SC) could give up the top Republican seat on Budget to move to Judiciary, where 117th Congress Judiciary Ranking Member Chuck Grassley (R-IA) is term-limited because he has already served six years as ranking member. If Sen. Graham moves to Judiciary, Sen. Grassley could move into the top GOP spot on Budget. If Republicans gain control of the Senate, Sen. Graham will likely become chairman of Budget and Sen. Whitehouse will become ranking member in the 118th Congress.

Jacky Rosen (NV)	Ron Johnson (WI)
Ben Ray Lujan (NM)	Shelley Moore Capito (WV)
John Hickenlooper (CO)	Rick Scott (FL)
Raphael Warnock (GA)	Cynthia Lummis (WY)

Outlook: 117th Congress Commerce Chairwoman Maria Cantwell (D-WA) will remain in the top Democratic spot on the committee. Given that 117th Congress Commerce Ranking Member Roger Wicker (R-MS) will be taking retiring Sen. Jim Inhofe's ranking position on Armed Services, Sen. Ted Cruz (R-TX) is expected to become the top Republican on Commerce in the 118th Congress.

Bernie Sanders (I-VT)	Kevin Cramer (ND)
Sheldon Whitehouse (RI)	Cynthia Lummis (WY)
Jeff Merkley (OR)	Richard Shelby (AL)
Ed Markey (MA)	John Boozman (AR)
Tammy Duckworth (IL)	Roger Wicker (MS)
Debbie Stabenow (MI)	Dan Sullivan (AK)
Mark Kelly (AZ)	Joni Ernst (IA)
Alex Padilla (CA)	Lindsey Graham (SC)

Outlook: 117th Congress Environment and Public Works (EPW) Chairman Tom Carper (D-DE) and Ranking Member Shelley Moore Capito (R-WV) will likely remain the top Democrat and the top Republican on the committee, respectively, in the 118th Congress.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

ETHICS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Chris Coons (DE), Chairman	James Lankford (OK), Ranking Member [2C, 2RM]
Brian Schatz (HI)	James Risch (ID)
Jeanne Shaheen (NH)	Deb Fischer (NE)

Outlook: 117th Congress Ethics Chairman Chris Coons (D-DE) could continue to serve as the top Democrat on the committee. 117th Congress Ethics Ranking Member James Lankford (R-OK) could continue to fill the spot as the top Republican on the committee. However, Sen. Lankford may have the opportunity to become the top Republican on HSGAC. Sen. James Risch (R-ID), who is next in line, is likely to continue to serve in the top GOP slot on Foreign Relations. Sen. Deb Fischer (R-NE) is on track to lead Republicans on Rules in the 118th Congress. This means Republicans might choose to shake up their Ethics roster to create an opportunity for an additional GOP Senator to lead a committee.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

FINANCE

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Ron Wyden (OR), Chairman	Mike Crapo (ID), Ranking Member [0C, 2RM]
Debbie Stabenow (MI)	Chuck Grassley (IA) (Term Limited) [6C, 6RM]
Maria Cantwell (WA)	John Cornyn (TX)
Robert Menendez (NJ)	John Thune (SD)
Tom Carper (DE)	Richard Burr (NC)

Sheldon Whitehouse (RI)	Steve Daines (MT)
Maggie Hassan (NH)	Todd Young (IN)
Catherine Cortez Masto (NV)	Ben Sasse (NE)
Elizabeth Warren (MA)	John Barrasso (WY)

Outlook: 117th Congress Finance Chairman Ron Wyden (D-OR) will keep his position as the top Democrat on the committee. Since 117th Congress Finance Ranking Member Mike Crapo (R-ID) is not term-limited, he is unlikely to give up his top spot and will remain the GOP leader on the committee for the 118th Congress.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

FOREIGN RELATIONS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Robert Menendez (NJ), Chairman	James Risch (ID), Ranking Member [2C, 2RM]

Jeff Merkley (OR)	John Barrasso (WY)
Cory Booker (NJ)	Ted Cruz (TX)
Brian Schatz (HI)	Mike Rounds (SD)
Chris Van Hollen (MD)	Bill Hagerty (TN)

Outlook: 117th Congress Foreign Relations Chairman Robert Menendez (D-NJ) and Ranking Member James Risch (R-ID) are likely to remain in the top spots for their parties on the committee in the 118th Congress.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

HEALTH, EDUCATION, LABOR & PENSIONS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Patty Murray (WA), Chairwoman	Richard Burr (NC), Ranking Member [OC, 2RM]
Bernie Sanders (I-VT)	Rand Paul (KY)
Robert Casey (PA)	Susan Collins (ME)
Tammy Baldwin (WI)	Bill Cassidy (LA)
Chris Murphy (CT)	Lisa Murkowski (AK)
Tim Kaine (VA)	Mike Braun (IN)
Maggie Hassan (NH)	Roger Marshall (KS)
Tina Smith (MN)	Tim Scott (SC)
Jacky Rosen (NV)	Mitt Romney (UT)
Ben Ray Lujan (NM)	Tommy Tuberville (AL)
John Hickenlooper (CO)	Jerry Moran (KS)

Outlook: If 117th Congress Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions (HELP) Chairwoman Patty Murray (D-WA) succeeds 117th Congress Appropriations Chairman Patrick Leahy (D-VT), 117th Congress Budget Chairman Bernie Sanders (I-VT) would be next in line to serve as the top Democrat on HELP. However, it is possible that Sen. Sanders may retain his position on Budget, meaning Aging Chairman Bob Casey (D-PA) would be next in line. Due to 117th Congress HELP Ranking Member Richard Burr's (R-NC) retirement, Sen. Rand Paul (R-KY) would be next in line to become the top Republican on the committee. To serve as the top Republican on HELP, Sen. Paul would have to give up his position as 117th Congress Small Business ranking member.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

HOMELAND SECURITY AND GOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Gary Peters (MI), Chairman	Rob Portman (OH), Ranking Member [0C, 2RM]
Tom Carper (DE) (EPW)	Ron Johnson (WI) [0C, 6RM]
Maggie Hassan (NH)	Rand Paul (KY)
Kyrsten Sinema (AZ)	James Lankford (OK)
Jacky Rosen (NV)	Mitt Romney (UT)
Alex Padilla (CA)	Rick Scott (FL)
Jon Ossoff (GA)	Josh Hawley (MO)

Outlook: 117th Congress HSGAC Chairman Gary Peters (D-MI) will likely remain the top Democrat on the committee. If Democrats hold control of the Senate, Sen. Ron Johnson (R-WI) is term-limited from serving as ranking member in the 118th Congress. Sen. Rand Paul (R-KY) would be next in line, but it is likely he would choose to become the top Republican on HELP. Under this scenario, Sen. James Lankford (R-OK) could get the top spot on HSGAC. If Republicans flip the Senate, Sen. Johnson has time remaining as chair. However, his race is currently rated a toss-up. If Sen. Johnson loses reelection and Sen. Paul chooses the top GOP slot on HELP, then Sen. Lankford could chair HSGAC.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

INDIAN AFFAIRS

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Brian Schatz (HI), Chairman	Lisa Murkowski (AK), Vice Chair [0C, 2RM]
Maria Cantwell (WA) (Commerce)	John Hoeven (ND) [0C, 2RM]
Jon Tester (MT) (Veterans' Affairs)	James Lankford (OK)
Catherine Cortez Masto (NV)	Steve Daines (MT)
Tina Smith (MN)	Mike Rounds (SD)
Ben Ray Lujan (NM)	Jerry Moran (KS)

Outlook: 117th Congress Indian Affairs Committee Chairman Sen. Brian Schatz (D-HI) and Vice Chair Lisa Murkowski (R-AK) will likely remain in top spots for the 118th Congress.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

INTELLIGENCE

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Mark Warner (VA), Chairman	Marco Rubio (FL), Vice Chair [1C, 2RM]
Dianne Feinstein (CA)	Richard Burr (NC) [5C, 2RM]
Ron Wyden (OR)	James Risch (ID)
Martin Heinrich (NM)	Susan Collins (ME)
Angus King (I-ME)	Roy Blunt (MO)
Michael Bennet (CO)	Tom Cotton (AR)
Bob Casey (PA)	John Cornyn (TX)
Kirsten Gillibrand (NY)	Ben Sasse (NE)
Jack Reed (RI), Ex Officio	Jim Inhofe (OK), Ex Officio
Chuck Schumer (NY), Ex Officio	Mitch McConnell (KY), Ex Officio

Outlook: 117th Congress Intelligence Chairman Mark Warner (D-VA) will likely remain the top Democrat on the committee. 117th Congress Intelligence Vice Chair Marco Rubio (R-FL) is in a tight race but will keep the top GOP spot if he wins reelection. Given that Sen. James Risch (R-ID) will keep his spot on Foreign Relations and Sen. Susan Collins (R-ME) will likely take Appropriations, Sen. Tom Cotton (R-AR) would be next in line to serve as the top Republican on the committee if Sen. Rubio loses.

[[Plurus Strategies]]

JUDICIARY

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Dick Durbin (IL), Chairman	Chuck Grassley (IA), Ranking Member [4C, 6RM]
Patrick Leahy (VT) (Appropriations)	Lindsey Graham (SC)
Dianne Feinstein (CA)	John Cornyn (TX)
Sheldon Whitehouse (RI)	Mike Lee (UT)
Amy Klobuchar (MN)	Ted Cruz (TX)
Chris Coons (DE)	Ben Sasse (NE)
Richard Blumenthal (CT)	Josh Hawley (MO)
Mazie Hirono (HI)	Tom Cotton (AR)
Cory Booker (NJ)	John Kennedy (LA)
Alex Padilla (CA)	Thom Tillis (NC)
Jon Ossoff (GA)	Marsha Blackburn (TN)

Outlook: 117th Congress Judiciary Chairman Dick Durbin (D-IL) will likely continue to serve as the top Democrat on Judiciary following a 2020 caucus rule change that allows him to serve as Democratic whip and in the top Democratic slot on one committee simultaneously. If Democrats hold control of the Senate, 117th Congress Judiciary Ranking Member Chuck Grassley (R-IA) is term-limited from serving as ranking member of Judiciary and will likely become ranking member of Budget. In this case, Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC), would chair Judiciary. If the Senate flips, Sen. Grassley will become chairman and Sen. Durbin will become ranking member.

RULES AND ADMINISTRATION

DEMOCRATS	REPUBLICANS
Amy Klobuchar (MN), Chairwoman	Roy Blunt (MO), Ranking Member [3C, 2R]
Dianne Feinstein (CA)	Mitch McConnell (KY) (Leadership)

Mark Warner (VA) (Intelligence)	Ted Cruz (TX)
Patrick Leahy (VT) (Appropriations)	Shelley Moore Capito (WV)
Angus King (I-ME)	Roger Wicker (MS)
Jeff Merkley (OR)	Deb Fischer (NE)
Alex Padilla (CA)	Cindy Hyde-Smith (MS)
Jon Ossoff (GA)	Bill Hagerty (TN)

Outlook: 117th Congress Rules Chairwoman Amy Klobuchar (D-MN) will likely remain the top Democrat on the committee. 117th Congress Rules Ranking Member Roy Blunt's (R-MO) retirement leaves the top Republican slot on the committee vacant. Sen. Mitch McConnell (R-KY) is ineligible because of his leadership role. Sen. Ted Cruz (R-TX) is likely to become the top Republican on Commerce. Sen. Shelley Moore Capito (R-WV) is expected to remain the top Republican on Energy. Sen. Roger Wicker (R-MS) is in line to become chairman of Armed Services. This creates an opening for Sen. Deb Fischer (R-NE) to fill the top Republican position on the committee in the 118th Congress.

Ed Markey (MA)	Tim Scott (SC)

Outlook: 117th Congress Small Business Chairman Ben Cardin (D-MD) will likely remain in the top Democratic spot on the committee. 117th Congress Small Business Ranking Member Rand Paul (R-KY) is likely to take the top GOP spot on HELP. Assuming he wins reelection, Sen. Marco Rubio (R-FL) will likely remain the top Republican on Intelligence. Sen. James Risch (R-ID) is likely to keep the top GOP slot on Foreign Relations.
